TEMPER JUSTICE WITH MERCY.

Last night a member of the Citizens' Guard said that the BULLETIN had made a mistake in advocating moderation in the disposal of prisoners. He had heard the sentiments condemned by several of those who had borne arms in defense of the Government. This paper would likely receive a letter on the subject this morning. What would have happened had the rebels got into town? Well, when morning came it brought, not a letter of censure, but one of strong approval, which is printed elsewhere. It is written by a lady whose husband and other relatives have been strong supporters of the Government from the beginning of its provisional existence until now. The BULLETIN is not attempting to palliate the crimes with which the men crowding the prisons are charged. Until the evidence comes out it is indeed impossible to say how many of them may have contemplated a war of revenge and outrage. There are no doubt some of them whose malice would know no bounds if the movement had temporarily succeeded. But there was really little or no chance of its succeeding to any very serious extent. The insurrectionary party were simply mad in thinking that they could overthrow the Government by means of an undisciplined and undrilled force with a sprinkling of native soldiers who had never been in action and a few foreign veterans and men of some brains who were to jump in when the main body of rioters had cleared the way. The Government had the great advantage of two years of preparation, with an ever-present expectation that there would be a revolt of some kind. It had the tremendous advantage of possession of the country's treasury; of means of defense which had been accumulating for many years under the monarchy, together with formidable munitions of war acquired by itself; of the largest trained military force the country has ever seen, besides an organized body of citizens skilled in the use of arms, waiting ever alert these two years for a call to the defense of their homes. The movement designed to prevail against such strength was simply a burlesque of war, and both leaders and followers are as much in the category of fools as in that of rebels against the constituted authorities. There is another consideration that should have weight in the decision demanded at this critical hour. That is, that for two years undisciplined tongues and pens both have been denouncing the opponents of the revolution of 1893 as cowards who dared not risk their skins for their sentiments. They were again and again challenged to come out and fight, and no pains were spared to irritate them up to a belligerent heat. A war to a finish was eagerly courted and it came in a way and at a time almost unexpected, but while it found the Government—as sensible heads of the opposition had anticipated and given warning of whenever war was hinted at—fully prepared and able to protect itself, it demonstrated that the natives still had spirit enough to make at least a show of fighting for what they doubtless believed to be their rights born of the soil. There was in fact a semblance of war. The rage of battle was thrown down by the party of "Hawaii for the Hawaiians," and it was taken up by the Government with swift effectiveness, and it was settled forever that the native Hawaiians must submit to be merely partners in ruling with the foreigners who have given their country a name and a station among the nations of the earth. There having been a war, then, the prisoners taken in it must be dealt with according to the modern example of the most enlightened nations. Otherwise the good name of the young Republic of Hawaii will be stained to a degree that will damage it seriously with those nations that have hitherto been its good friends. As to those who contrived the war but did not go into the fight, it may be right to visit upon them the extreme penalty of the law. Yet the old adage may well be regarded, which says that it is a poor use to make of a man to hang or to shoot him. If the harbor of Honolulu were incriminated with rebel blood, it would not restore the valuable life of one martyr to the cause of the Republic. These conspirators might be retired from all chance of mischief-making in useful service to the country for terms proportionate to the degree of their offenses, and those who are inveterate revolutionists, and have been suggesting violence against every government that did not give them place or pelf, might well be given a prolonged leave of absence from the country in which they have distinguished themselves by fomenting disturbance. There is yet another element that ought to be imported into the deliberations over the disposal of the prisoners. That is, consideration for the innocent women and children of the prisoners. They will be the worst sufferers from any punishment that may be inflicted upon their protectors and providers. Taking everything into consideration, the conclusion is that the Government will best show its stability by the utmost magnanimity it can exercise consistently with the demands of justice.

Humanity Speaks.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—

Dear Sir,—Allow me to thank you for the kind and conciliatory articles published in your paper last evening. Had these been the sentiments expressed by the Honolulu press all through these two long years of strife and warfare much would have been done to allay the bitter feelings which have caused the outbreak of the past week. That they express the feelings and sentiments of all right minded and humane people, I am sure, and they will be grateful to you for publishing them, and thank you for your magnanimous spirit and courage.

We want no legal murdering! God forbid it! Let us follow the golden rule.

Timely Topics

In purchasing a sewing machine it is advisable to select the one that will do the most work. Any machine will sew one stitch but there is only one that will sew three and that one is the Wertheim for which we are the Agents. During the past few years a machine has been on the market that by changing several parts and putting on an attachment two separate stitches may be made. The bother in changing, however, has been so great that owners of the machines have taken the lesser evil and done their work with one stitch. The "Wertheim" is constructed on such simple lines that to change from the lock to the chain stitch is less work than to thread a needle, and when the stitch is made, found to be as perfectly done as if the machine sewed but one stitch. For embroidery or any fancy work the Wertheim excels because the inventor included an embroidery attachment among the manifold blessings of the "Wertheim." Perhaps the greatest merit of the "Wertheim" is the price. We sell it for less money than you pay for an ordinary machine that will do less work and is less attractive in appearance. Our stock of "Wertheims" includes several styles of tables.

Some people burn candles at night, some use peanut oil and others kerosene. We do not mean during the evening, but through the still hours of the night when "cocks crow and ghosts walk." We've sold all sorts of lamps for this purpose and we have generally aimed to get the best. A few days ago we received an invoice of lamps similar to the "Nutmeg" but much better for the reason that they have diminutive reflectors and an attachment whereby they may be hung up to the wall. They cost only fifty cents and you get three dollars worth of satisfaction out of one of them.

The fruit is forming and in a short time will be ready to pick. With mangoes and alligator pears it is damaging to have the fruit knocked from the trees with stones or clubs. We have imported recently a new style picker that will bring down the fruit as perfect as when it leaves the tree. If you want one of them without a pole it costs you fifty cents—two bits extra if you take a pole.

Honolulu has in it a very large fish-eating community and the man who invented the Fish Scaler must have either lived here or taken charge of his own kitchen while the cook was taking a holiday. They are made like two saws running parallel with a handle on the end. All you have to do is to take hold of the tail of the fish and run your scaler over it and your fish is as clean as a whistle. You would be astonished at the rapidity with which the work is accomplished. Twenty-five cents is cheap enough.

One of our tool boxes is the handiest things in the world to have about the house. There's always more or less tinkering to be done, not enough to necessitate calling in a carpenter and too much for your servant to do if he hasn't the tools. Our family tool chest fills a long-felt want in Honolulu and on the other Islands. If you get one of them you will never regret it.

THROAT COMFORT.

FOR EVERYBODY.

Nothing heretofore known is anything like so useful.

Few are so free from catarrh and other affections that touch the throat as to have no need of relief from "tickling" or "dryness" or "rawness" or "irritation" or "inflammation" of the throat, or to have no need of help in the use of the voice, as in talking or reading aloud or singing.

It gives the throat rest.

FOR SPEAKERS AND SINGERS.

THROAT COMFORT will give you such voice as is not to be got in any other way.

Such statements are common; you don't believe it. Try one tablet—let it dissolve in the mouth.

COLD IN THE HEAD.

At the beginning of a cold, when you have the chilly feeling, a tablet every ten or fifteen minutes will generally prevent the cold.

It is a tonic for the stomach as well as for the throat.

RELIEF OF PAIN.

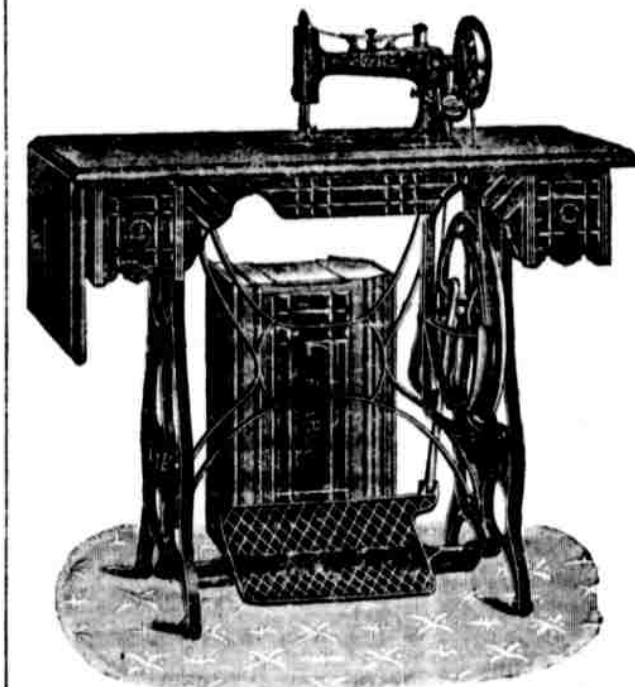

In all painful throat diseases, such as tonsillitis and quinsy, THROAT COMFORT gives relief beyond your expectation.

Many troublesome throat disorders are kept up by incessant "clearing of the throat" or by coughing. The rest that THROAT COMFORT gives, in such cases, is all that is needed to let the throat get well.

There is no harm in any amount of it. It will not even upset the stomach, unless sugar does.
